What Paul Harris Said

June 3, 2007

In his message to the 1946 RI Convention at Atlantic City, New Jersey,

"What should Rotarians do to back up the United Nations? Just what they are doing. Rotarians were chairmen of seven national delegations at the San Francisco Conference, and in all, as delegates or consultants at the San Francisco Conference, there were fifty Rotarians. Thus the spirit of Rotary was very definitely in evidence in San Francisco during the writing of the United Nations Charter."

Was it not significant that retiring UN Secretary General Kofi Annan specifically mentioned Rotary International by name in his retirement speech a few months ago? Not only has Rotary International worked with the UN, other Governments and NGOs in the fight to eradicate polio, our organization helped formulate the United Nations Charter, as Paul Harris points out.

Sadly, Harris would not be around to see how this new, idealistic creation would develop. I suppose there are many critics of the United Nations today as it struggles to cope with global conflicts and tensions all over the world. Yet, the United Nations, surely, offers the best way forward towards a peaceful future. Rotary also continues to work for peace with the same enthusiasm and commitment of 50 years ago. Today, we have developed our own Peace Fellow Program to honour Paul Harris' memory. See <http://www.rotaryfirst100.org/foundation/programs/peace.htm> for more details. There will also be a World Peace Symposium at the Salt Lake City Convention, June 14-16 (more details here) http://www.rotary.org/newsroom/foundation/070112_peacesymposium.html

Thus, with a cadre of professional mediators and peace specialists working for and working in conjunction with the UN, the "Spirit of Rotary" as Paul Harris said, will live on. This is what we are doing to "back up the United Nations".

May 30 Meeting Notes

Rotary Minute: Jim McIvor contest to see who can complete a questionnaire the first. Fun. Patrick presented banner from Ireland. Denise Larson agreed to attend LBCN Graduation Ceremony at Tamagawa on June 1. Lynda Kazanowski advised us that SD Awards presentation ceremony will be held at the Port Theatre on June 12. Valorie Lennox did a very interesting presentation on Canine Agility trials. There is sure a lot that the average person doesn't know about how this works.

Bruce Williams did a short presentation on Landtubbers and following the meeting the committee met to discuss how best to proceed. Bruce also announced to the Club that A-Channel was donating the bathtubs to Daybreak Rotary. They are currently being housed by the Bathtub Society which can continue if we like.

Everyone is reminded of the Dodgeball Tourney on June 9.
