Meeting Notes - September 12th

President Donna announced that the club is looking at putting together a Rotary float for the May Day parade - contact Nicole Gosselin if you are interested in helping out on this project. Nelson Allen advised that he is now collecting donations for Rotary Foundation and plans to have the "donations to date" numbers for next week's meeting. Dave Perry announced that he is now a Grandpa. Denise Larson circulated a sheet and invited members to write down community service ideas.

President Donna passed around a sheet promoting Ladysmith Rotary's Yellow Point Pant & Paddle fundraiser which takes place on September 23rd. Members were advised that former member Lee Odgers fell and broke his kneecap while doing an Elvis impersonation!

Neil Sorsdahl, for his Rotary Minute, encouraged us to be thankful for what we have in Canada and discussed some of the experiences his daughter has had on her trip to South Africa. Neil advised us that, "We do live in a good place and it's good to be a Rotarian."

Patrick Maguire gives his classification talk at last week's meeting

Patrick Maguire's classification talk was the program for the meeting.

Patrick was born in the 1940s in Ireland, the eldest child of seven.

Both of his parents were teachers and the majority of the children in his family became teachers too. He has been married for 42 years to Maura who is also a teacher. They have three children and 2.8 grandchildren (the third one is due in October). Patrick enjoys recreational sports, do-it-yourself projects and wine-making. Patrick and Maura also enjoy traveling and are planning an extended trip to

New Zealand and a trip to Portugal next year. The trip from Ireland to Canada was initiated by a successful application to work in the Northlands School Division in northern Alberta. Patrick was initially posted to Fort Chippewan and had a few entertaining tales to tell about living in the remote community located in north east Alberta. In the mid-70s, the Maguires ended up in Grande Prairie, Alberta. Patrick worked his way up through the ranks and became superintendent in Sherwood Park before he retired. In retirement, he became a consultant.

He is currently superintendent for two arts immersion charter schools in Calgary. Patrick was inducted into the Rotary Club of Sherwood Park in 1991 and is a past-president of the Rotary Club of Cochrane. Being in Rotary, Patrick believes, allows one to get to know the community better and also allows the community to know you better. Patrick chose Daybreak Rotary from the local Rotary clubs because of our hospitality, our energy and our enthusiasm. Welcome to our club, Patrick!
