Meeting Notes—December 30th

submitted by Ron Blank

ROTARIANS! Herewith, the last Weekly Wake-up from the first decade of the second millennium. Whoa! That sure sounds impressive! Then again, the lofty goals and the good deeds of Rotarians are impressive. Congratulate yourselves!... OK, back on track, our meeting began on an interesting note. Member resourcefulness resolved the day: muffins arrived in the hands of the good Doctor Ken Hammer. Coffee arrived shortly thereafter. Not to worry!

This was our Club Business meeting, with a twist. Our seating was pre-arranged, with groupings for Service Projects, chaired by Denise Larson, and Club Administration, chaired by Rod Mont. Each avenue of service was then discussed, to highlight our many projects, and to educate everyone on the workings of our Club. Several members were in both avenues for service, and table-hopping was required. (Except for the reticent Swiss Miss) We all learned something, and enjoyed the camaraderie.

Two new members have been proposed:
Sarah Staniforth (of Origins) with her classification of Marketing, and,
Barb Denike, with her classification of Music Education.

Lastly, I wanted to recognize the help of our Bruce Mede, and Mike Carson, owner of Signs Now. Below is the copy that I sent to the Nanaimo Daily News. Unfortunately, they shortened the copy and did not use the pictures. Their input makes our project successful.

Newest Location

Southgate Branch of Coastal Community Credit Union has graciously allowed Rotary Daybreak Nanaimo to locate our Book Donation Box inside their front entrance at Southgate Centre. Assistant Manager Ian MacCaskell accepts the box from the builder, Rotarian Ron Blank. As part of our Rotary Daybreak Literacy Projects, we have built and maintain four Boxes in Nanaimo, with donations going directly to Literacy Central V.I. Updated signage compliments of Mike Carson of Signs Now

Largest One Yet!

Too many books overwhelmed the Book Donation Box located in Country Club Centre. As part of Rotary Daybreak's Literacy Project, we support Literacy Central V.I. by building and maintaining the donation boxes. Builder Ron Blank presents the largest of our four boxes to Country Club Centre Manager Dave Mills. Bruce Mede, of Adonai Millworks cut and banded the wood and Mike Carson of Signs Now provided the signage. Past Rotarian Terry Akerman certainly needs his pick-up truck. He empties the boxes every week from Woodgrove, Northtown and Country Club Centres and delivers them to Literacy. These seemingly innocuous donations contribute about $20,000 in annual sales to Literacy Central VI.

Book Donation Boxes located at:

- Main Entrance, (N) Woodgrove Centre (by Toys-R-U's)
- Centre Hallway, Northtown Centre (behind London Drugs)
- West Entrance, Country Club Centre (by Save-On-Foods)
- Coastal Community Credit Union, Southgate Mall

FOUR WAY TEST

1. Is it the TRUTH?
2. Is it FAIR to all concerned?
3. Will it build GOODWILL and BETTER FRIENDSHIPS?
4. Will it be BENEFICIAL to all concerned?
