Meeting Notes - November 14th

notes by San Mahara, photos by Donna Allen

There was not a big line up at the cash as Michel Leduc checked me in with a morning handshake. Two ladies, Sher Holubowich and Kris Rongve were standing by to welcome with a warm hug as was Denise Larson.

Meeting started by singing with O Canada in tune with Rod Mont's musical talent. Donna Allen said the invocation, thanking everybody from charter members to the present members for their contribution.

We did not have any visiting Rotarians today, but Jeff Boegel introduced a guest, Lea Ross. Jeff stated the wrong place where she is undertaking a water project. It cost him a buck. She came to talk about her fundraising event happening this weekend for the Nepal Project.

Patrick Maguire did the Rotary moment/minute. He said he had an epiphany while planting daffodils last weekend. It involves families. All the clan members from Doug Lum's family were there and so was the son of Brian Kirkhope. Eileen Tatton was able to bring in her family, too. He said that, while we could do more of that, the best place to start was our family.

Chris Everett mentioned the Tigh Na Mara event where we will help them with their Christmas party. For that our club will get paid, including tips from the happy staff. He said it is confirmed that we will help them and 12 members have already signed up to volunteer. Details will follow on January 9th.

Randall Taylor had two things to share. He wanted to get ready for the election of Board members for next year. The election will be on December 19th. He asked all the interested members to contact him for details and to put their names in. Second announcement was about the photo opp with VIU musical department happening on the same day at VIU. Interested members were requested to show up for the photo opp, which was done by Christine Craigie.

Ken Hammer spoke about the "Mission to Ghana". He wanted the members to join for the trip and get first hand info about the projects. He was dealing with library and malaria net projects. He said that Ghana is considered "Africa for beginners". It is safe and country is democratic. Best of all the goals and objectives are already set out. So all you have to do is show up.

Donna talked about Christmas Hamper and good news is its getting bigger. There are many more people now than before who need help during the Holiday Season. This hamper is successfully carried out with the help of the Salvation Army along with Loaves and Fishes. Our club donates all the proceeds from the Christmas Auction to the hamper. A little bit of history; nine years ago 700 hampers were donated. Last year, the number rose exponentially to 2300 hampers. Families can register online now to be considered for a hamper.

Our only guest for today, Lea, shared a water project in a small village called Seduwa in Nepal. She has organised a fundraising event at John Barsby school this coming Saturday 17th and Sunday 18th, of November. There will be cafe, live music, raffle, Nepal slideshow, bake sale and home decor sale.

...Speaker Anna Jones with her book, presented by Pres Denise and Rod...

Rod gave a briefing on Grey Cup Pool, which is almost sold out now. Then he introduced to your speaker for the morning, none other than our own Anna Jones. She talked about transferring to your speaker for the morning, none other than our own Anna Jones. She said the change will start on April Fools Day in 2013. The existing HST of 12% will be changed to GST 5% and PST 7%. The requirement is that all businesses have to be registered once again. She emphasized that, as a business owner, you need to know when to stop charging HST and bill for GST/ PST. She gave a few examples with scenarios demonstrating when to submit the appropriate tax, depending on when the sale was done and when the actual invoice was paid. She was of the opinion that it is rather a complicated process so she advised that you talk to your accountant for details. The process is as complicated as our government itself. Anna had made few copies of the changes for those who were interested. Thank you, Anna, for bringing this to us.

Another thing she pointed out was that the rule governing real estate is a complex one, as well. These deals need to fully disclose as to when the property was purchased and when ownership was initiated.

At the end, a book was donated to a library on behalf of Anna. She was impressed by the cover of the book on which a muscle man was holding up a girl in a bikini.

...Patrick gave the morning's Rotary Minute...

Dave Thompson made a comment that in reality there is no change, as a consumer has to pay in one or another way.

Dawne Anderson was called for 50/50, but could not pick out the needed card to win.

At the end of the meeting, the Sgt-at-Arms, Dave Thompson, was able to collect some bucks for noisy cell phones early in the morning.

Dawne shared about the sign up sheet being ready for the Kettle drive. She requested members to sign up as individuals or as a team from the club.

Then we recited our Four Way Test before we parted for the day.

...And finally, adventures at the 50/50 table.
