Meeting Notes - June 8th, 2016 submitted by Nick Dunne, photos by Robb Mowbray

Our rotary meeting was successfully run by Evelyn Boegh, who forwent the microphone and vocally commanded attention of the meeting.

Evelyn was pulling double duty and also delivered our rotary minute, which taught us the importance of speaking clearly and making sure others are set up to succeed. If not, we may be surprised by the outcome.

There was leftover fruit...not saying it's the most news worthy, but, you know, fruit for all.

Our guest speakers were Sherrie Wade of the RCMP and Pennie Casey of the Youth Early Prevention (YEP).

YEP is a kids program which operates within schools to assist kid's ages 6 to 12 to learn social skills, emotional skills and general life skills. Their program is based on the concept that kids who have a proper social support system are less likely to turn to drugs or gangs to fulfil their social needs.

The program is entering its third year of operation, in which they are trying to expand to a second school, tighten the programs by having smaller, more targeted groups and hire a program leader to assist with this expansion. As part of the expansion, they are also starting to fund raise for this worthwhile program...perhaps a cause Daybreak Rotary should remember.

On June 29th the new executive will be meeting and a changing of the guards will occur.

There were no birthdays or anniversaries.

Finally, for the 50/50 draw, we are now looking for the four of hearts.

We four-wayed and went forth...

Four Way Test

1. Is it the TRUTH?
2. Is it FAIR to all concerned?
3. Will it build GOODWILL and BETTER FRIENDSHIPS?
4. Will it be BENEFICIAL to all concerned?
