Meeting Notes - Jan 18th, 2017 submitted by Rod Fay, photos by Donna Allen

Jeff provided the day's Rotary Minute. He said that 80% of volunteer work is done by 20% of the population and that Rotarians make up the major proportion of that 20%. He asked those present to raise their hands if they volunteered in other community activities. The large number of members who raised their hands proved his point.

Announcements

Ken is putting together a bucket list of activities for Evan, our exchange student. This has done for our previous exchange students. Evan would like to try bungee jumping at Wild Play and to go fishing. If any member has other suggestions and would like to provide an Island experience for Evan, please let Ken know.

Members who have been in the club for ten years or more were asked to stand and introduce their Rotary buddies.

The board has approved the allocation of $1000 for club members to attend the District conference, May 3-5 on the Olympic Peninsula..

Representatives from the five clubs in our area are planning a social event at Beban Park in early April. A lobster fest is proposed for the fall. Nelson suggested that the five clubs share news when members are sick.

Guest Speakers

Don and Ev presented an overview of our club's website and Facebook (FB) page.

Using his laptop and projector, Don walked us through the contents of our club's home page. He explained that the content of the web page should be current. He explained how information can be updated. He shared statistics to show the number of people accessing our website and which specific pages they read.

Ev talked about the website and our Facebook page being powerfully effective ways of getting our message out to the community, both locally and beyond. Using Facebook can spread the word about upcoming events like our shredding day fundraiser. When a member uses Facebook to invite their FB friends to such an event, the circulation is huge.

Ev also mentioned that Area 4 is setting up a Facebook page and our club needs a person to keep news of our club up to date.
