Mt Everest Base Camp meeting this week...

Patrick completes Camino Santiago de Compostela ...

Well, it's finished! Got into Santiago this morning (June 22) at 9:45 am, after a quick 11 km early morning march through the suburbs of Santiago. Just as well I walked then! It's a sweltering 33C as I write this!

The strategy of staying in smaller places had its moments! In the first place, Calle del Ferreiros, there was nowhere to eat, or so I was led to believe by the hostel operator. Taxi to town was an option, but when I weighed the pros and cons, I did what the pilgrims in mediaeval times did, took advantage of the circumstances they found themselves in! I called the take-away pizza place and had them deliver a pizza and a bottle of wine! Then the following afternoon arriving in Lavacolla, the first thing I noticed was a big stage set up for a concert! Yep, the music started about 9:00 pm and went on until 4:30 am. All of this about 50 metres from my bedroom window! I'm looking forward to a little better sleep tonight.

So, it's done! I haven't had time to sort out my feelings yet, but it's an interesting mix of satisfaction, sadness and looking forward to seeing Maura and the family again after 5 weeks away. I expect I'll go through a transition period over the next few days. I don't leave here until Tuesday evening, so I have a little time for that. Santiago is a lovely city, and if you're looking for a spot in Spain to spend a few days, this would be one!

So, the adventure and this blog herewith comes to an end. Thank you to all of you who have followed me for the past 5 weeks. Your likes and comments were a very supportive connection to a community I value and appreciate outside of this bubble that is the Camino. Thank you, and God bless you all!

Sunshine Ladies reminder...

Meeting Notes - July 4/18 submitted by Randall Taylor, photos by ???

...from Randall...

Good morning from Regina, Saskatchewan;

I left Nanaimo on Thursday without my notes from Wednesday's meeting. Now in Regina, I cannot provide a full account of the meeting. I can say that:

...the meeting was Ev Boegh's first meeting as our official club President, although she has been handling the role capably for the past few months.

We welcomed back Patrick Maguire from his pilgrimage across northern Spain which followed the Camino de Santiago. Patrick will give the club a presentation on the trials and exhilaration of making this pilgrimage.

Our speaker was Ewan Moir, CEO and President of the Port of Nanaimo. Ewan described the changing demographics of the mid-Island and how this will positively affect the growth of the Port. Ewan focused on three specific areas; expansion of the heavy industry at Duke Point, the replacement of light industry at the assembly wharves/ downtown, and the reconstruction of the boat basin. The assembly wharf will see a new auto completion centre, which will inventory automobiles for new car dealerships. This is expected to grow to 50,000 automobiles on-site. The boat basin docks are to be completely removed and replaced with new docks providing twice as much mooring capacity. The new docks will incorporate a public use area at water-level with outdoor seating and additional food service.

50/50 was a close call, but did not produce a winner; the pot continues to grow.

Sorry I don't have the announcements or other meeting items.

Randall

Message from Nathan Thornton...

Good Morning, Everyone, my apologies that I was not able to make it to the Installation. I want to thank all of you for your help this past year and in particular Ev and Doug, you did what Rotarians do, you stepped up and made it happen and for that I am eternally grateful. The only regret that I will carry with me from my years as a Daybreak Rotarian is that I was not able to finish out this past year as president.

Just over 13 years ago I was invited to join the Rotary club that met every Wednesday morning at Swiss Chalet and I became a member of the Rotary Club of Nanaimo Daybreak. That day marked the beginning of a new chapter in my life. I was able to see the ability of a group of like-minded individuals to come together to inspire change, to tackle world problems both big and small, and (as all good Rotarians do) to celebrate the successes and plan for future challenges. Today, I hope you will all celebrate the successes of this past year and join me in thanking the board members and directors who carried the load and worked so hard on behalf of all of us. As well, to the incoming board, I wish you well for the coming year and I know the Club is in excellent hands.

This club has opened the door to many new friendships and experiences, it has left me humbled yet hopeful for the future, all the while transforming me into a true "Rotarian", a title I will hold dear for the rest of my days. All of you are responsible for that transformation and for that, I thank you. I will be back at some point in my future, as Nanaimo will always be home to me and Daybreak Rotary will always be family.

Yours in Rotary

Nathan
